Peter Was born in the Wheatbelt of WA and completed his schooling in Northam. His early years as a minister were spent as a parish priest in rural Victoria. He has since been a teacher, Dean of a boys' boarding college, youth administrator and school chaplain and has travelled and worked both in and outside of Australia.

Five years ago he and his family returned to WA to develop a house church and men's networks. He says the most distressing aspect of his school chaplaincy was the number of boys without fathers or from homes with dysfunctional fathers, hence his talk on: "The Claiming of Manhood Through Rites of Passage and Initiation"
